

A CHANGING ORDER

There's something happening here! (Isn't that from a song or something?) Actually the lyrics to that song go on to say 'What it is ain't exactly clear'. But in the case of the world's economy it may be clearer that we'd like to believe. The Global Economic Order is undergoing more than a minor face lift. It is experiencing a major structural transformation. What we are seeing in the financial sphere may be the first stirrings signaling the most significant of changes; - the one that will bring about the World Order of the Antichrist Regime. Headlines in Great Britain screamed "British Banking giants to be nationalized", as the UK government arranged to take over the Halifax Bank of Scotland and the Royal Bank of Scotland. French and EU officials prepared to follow suit on the Continent.¹ Even little Iceland got into the act by taking control of its three largest banks. Now that formerly rich country is perched on the edge of bankruptcy.² The US would not be outdone. Here's the headline in the Washington Post: "U.S. Forces Nine Major Banks To Accept Partial Nationalization". The government promised to spend $250 billion from the bailout package on the banks this year and the markets loved it. The Dow went up 936 points on Monday, a record setting 11% gain in just one day.³ After all, investors are seeing the outlines of the new order in the form of the government relieving them of risk.

It was the cooperation of central banks across the globe along with "major governments' plans to support the global banking system" that proved so reassuring.⁴ They could see that the fix was in. The action of the central banks to coordinate last week's interest rate cut was the first sign that the interconnectedness of the international banking families was being brought more into the open. And that serves the interests of the players that are seeking a centrally controlled New World Order. Oh yeah, that's because they are those very players, working as they are through the likes of organizations like the Council on Foreign Relations, the Trilateral Commission, the Bildebergers and their financial tools the World Bank and the International Monetary Fund (IMF). They have long maneuvered to limit the power of the nation states and their machinations are beginning to payoff.

According to the Washington Post, what we're hearing now is the "sound of the global balance of power shifting". The dominance of the West is fading and the emerging economies of the East are assuming those positions of power. The "roles have been reversed in the global economy". It is now nations like India and to an even greater degree, China that are providing the capital that drives the dollar-driven and America-centered world economy. That changing of the guard in the economic sphere will have its affect elsewhere. As Philip Stevens wrote in the Financial Times, "For more than two centuries, the US and Europe have exercised an effortless economic, political and cultural hegemony. That era is ending".⁵

And it is ending fast. The general reordering then includes not just a transfer of power from the West to the East, but also a consolidation of control on the part of governments around the world. Italy's Prime Minister Berlusconi wants to temporarily shut down the world's economy while new rules are drafted and France's Sarkozy admits that he wants "a new world order to come out of this".⁶ Now from what we've seen it is no great leap to move to the position that just like the implosion of the stock market in 1929, the current financial crisis is the result of circumstances contrived by the powers that control our economies such as the Federal Reserve itself. Webster G Tarpley makes a convincing case that the Great Depression was the result of the policies engaged in by the Anglo-American Establishment as expressed through the actions of the Bank of England working in cooperation with the Federal Reserve, and the German Reichsbank. Behind all lay the interconnected cabal that is the international banking families. It is they who pull the strings. Even mainline economists like Fed Chairman Ben Bernake admit that it was Federal Reserve policies that caused the crash.⁷ Here's Tarpley's verdict on that era. "In fact, the 1920's speculative bubble and subsequent crash of 1929 was directly caused by Federal Reserve policies. Those policies in turn had been dictated by the world of British finance, which had been decisive in shaping the Federal Reserve to begin with.” The resulting chaos served as the impetus for countries to seek more control over their economies and their populations. It signaled the ascendance of Fascist-like economies, with increased state control. Frightened populations were only too happy to acquiesce. In the end it set the groundwork for the onset of World War II; - step two on the march to world government.⁸ The Apostle Paul prophecies that acquiescence in 1Thessalonians 5:3. “For when they say, ‘Peace and safety!’ then sudden destruction comes upon them, as labor pains upon a pregnant woman. And they shall not escape.” But that too is all part of the plan.

So what can we expect in this go round? Well the Governor of the Bank of Israel believes that the global financial crisis will last about a year. That’s about in line with previous predictions of increased pressure on the US government to be able to meet its exploding debt obligations forced on it by the bailout and the slowing economy. In the meantime we can expect to see government intervention increase, more nationalization and the government taking partial ownership of private businesses in an ever increasingly-regulated economy. Whether the stock market continues to go up in the short run or not, I believe that we will see an accumulation of economic power into the hands of the few and a more pervasive government control on the way to a reworking of the international economic order. When the smoke finally clears, we may see that the dominance of the American dollar is coming to a close, - causing the waning of US global influence.

A Prophetic Connection

It is interesting to note that the economic crash of 2008 began almost exactly 7 years after the fall of the Twin Towers of the World Trade Center, those symbols of American economic dominance and the triumph of the Babylon that is the world system. But there is yet a deeper connection to the events of September 11, 2001. Messianic Rabbi Jonathan Cahn detailed it for the audience of the Sid Roth Radio Show in October of 2006. Let’s start by looking at a passage in Isaiah. “The Lord has sent a message against Jacob; it will fall on Israel. All the people will know it— Ephraim and the inhabitants of Samaria— who say with pride and arrogance of heart, ‘The bricks have fallen down, but we will rebuild with dressed stone; the fig trees have been felled, but we will replace them with cedars.’” (Isaiah 9:8-10)

Now as I have argued before: God gives a clear pattern for the spiritual life of a nation. Israel often fell into that pattern of sin – judgment – repentance and only then restoration. Now what Isaiah is referring to in the passage above is the slide into sin of the Northern Kingdom of Israel. So God allowed her enemies to strike a blow to serve both as correction and a further warning of judgment to come. But Israel did not repent. Instead the Israelite leaders answered “with pride and arrogance of heart ‘The bricks are fallen down. But we will rebuild with hewn stones: the sycamores are cut down, but we will replace them with cedars.’” (NIV) Notice just a few phrases: sycamores, bricks falling, rebuild with stone, trees cut down and replaced with cedars. There are amazing parallels that come into play here with America and the events and reaction to the 9/11 attacks.

On September 11th, God’s judgment came to the World Trade Center, the Temple as it were, of America’s real god, - the Almighty Dollar. It was the same as when judgment fell on Israel and the Temple was destroyed. At that time one of the steel beams from the falling North Tower cut down a sycamore tree. But this was not just any tree on any site. It was a sycamore growing on the grounds of a colonial era chapel that played a significant part in the first inauguration of George Washington as President of these United States which took place in New York, the country’s temporary capital. After the ceremony, the new President led his fellow officials to this St Paul’s Chapel, where they “spent two hours dedicating America in prayer to God”. Now Israel and America were the only two countries to ever be dedicated to God right from their foundation. Every other building in the area had been destroyed, yet this chapel of dedication remained untouched.

Now at their time of judgment, Israel reacted with “pride and arrogance of heart”. They vowed to rebuild with “dressed stone” and to replace sycamores with cedars. America’s leaders reacted the same way, even using the very same words; - and turning those words to action: - to declare their total reliance on themselves. The Israelites were responding to an attack by the Assyrians, a people coming from what is modern day Iran and Iraq. The attack on New York and Washington was carried out by their Arab cousins the Saudis. Speaking for America, Senate Majority Leader Tom Daschle echoed the Israelite arrogance as he quoted those same words of Isaiah, promising again to rebuild in our own strength. "The bricks have fallen down but we will rebuild". Rabbi Cahn however saw dark portents in his words. Cahn said that Senator Daschle "didn't realize what he was doing...this is the sign of a nation when it's at the dawn of its judgment...saying 'We are not going to return'". Vice Presidential candidate John Edwards repeated Daschle's theme on the campaign trail. And then action followed words. In the years that followed the remains of that stricken sycamore was removed and a cedar was planted. Precisely in accordance with the defiance expressed in God's word. In 2004 New York's Governor Pataki boasted that "20 tons of Adirondack granite" had been quarried and placed as the foundation. This was the hewn stone. Again, exactly in line with God's word!

You see, these leaders may have believed that they were pronouncing a blessing on this nation. But in their arrogance and their defiance and their refusal to turn back to God they were declaring a curse. Yes, here is the promise of 2Chronicles 7:14: "if My people who are called by My name will humble themselves, and pray and seek My face, and turn from their wicked ways, then I will hear from heaven, and will forgive their sin and heal their land". That is the reward that God promises for His people that turn back to Him from their sin. But that we did not do! So in 2Chronicles 7:19-22 we see God's solemn warning for the people that reject His ways. "But if you turn away and forsake My statutes and My commandments which I have set before you, and go and serve other gods, and worship them, then I will uproot them from My land which I have given them; and this house which I have sanctified for My name I will cast out of My sight, and will make it a proverb and a byword among all peoples. ... 'Why has the LORD done thus to this land and this house?' Then they will answer, 'Because they forsook the LORD God of their fathers'".^{9 10 11}

WHAT'S THE TRUTH ?

By Pastor Lynn Zankl

All of us human beings have what is called a world view. What is a world view? Well, to put it in its simplest form, it's how we view the world. Yet it's much more complicated than that. It includes little things, like, how and why we make our decisions, how we choose to live our lives, what we choose to believe and disbelieve, who we will accept, and who we will not accept into our lives. Yes, these are life changing decisions, and need to be made with wisdom. The Bible is clear that it contains a world view that God wants us to have, and His world view WILL change the way we make decisions, how we will live our lives, and what we will accept and reject. Are you a Christian?? What's your world view?? What view does God want us to have?

Ask your self this, Why did Jesus come into this world, why was He born? We could think of many answers to that question, but, here is Jesus answer, John 18:33-37. In verse 37 Jesus says, "to this end was I born, and for this cause came I into the world, that I should BEAR WITNESS TO THE TRUTH". There is a trial going on here, Jesus is on trial for His very life, but there is another trial going on here at the same time, the truth is on trial. God's truth, what Jesus came to bear witness to, is on trial in the hearts of men.

What does God say about His truth?

- 1) John 1:17grace and truth came by Jesus
- 2) John 14:6....Jesus is the way the truth and the life.
- 3) John 17:17....Sanctify them through thy truth; thy word is truth
- 4) John 4:24.....God is Spirit and we MUST worship Him in spirit and in truth
- 5) John 8:32.....the truth shall make you free
- 6) John 14:17.....The Comforter is the Spirit of truth
- 7) John 16:13..... The Spirit of truth will guide you into all truth
- 8) I Tim 2:4.....God wants you saved and in the knowledge of the truth

9) Eph 6:14.....Stand therefore, having your loin girt about with truth

Do you think that maybe the truth is important to God?

Well then, how have we, mankind, responded to God, and to the view of truth that He wants us to have?

- 1) Rom 1:18....because of our unrighteousness, we hold the truth of God in unrighteousness.
- 2) Rom 1:25.....We changed the truth of God into a lie
- 3) Rom 2:8.....We do not obey the truth.
- 4) 1Tim 4:3-4..We will not endure sound doctrine....and turn our ears from the truth, and turn to fables.

So many of us Christians have a hard time hearing the voice of God, yet don't understand why. This may be a very good reason, back to John 18:38 Jesus said he came to bear witness to the truth, and then He adds.... “Everyone that IS OF THE TRUTH hears my voice”. Are you hearing Gods voice today??? If not, something is very wrong, and needs to be changed. Know this; there is a war going on, a spiritual war, a war between the Spirit of Truth, and the spirit of falsehood, between The God of Truth and the god of the lie. In fact in the Bible in John 8: 31-44 Jesus talks about the war between the two fathers. The people of Israel said that God was their father, but Jesus replied NO, and said to them that they were of their father the devil, and that there was no truth in him, and that he is the father of lies, and that they were just like their father.

I am not pointing fingers or making accusations. What I want to accomplish out of this is to cause all of us, including me, to look into the mirror, with a critical eye on ourselves, and ask: Am I in the truth as Jesus desires me to be? Or am I, -or have I let myself down to the place where I'm in the lie, and probably not even realizing it? The devil is a liar, and a deceiver, 2Tim 2:26 says that the devil has a snare, a trap, and takes people captive. Have you been taken captive?

As we have seen there are two world views; Gods view based on His truth, and the world view based on their “truth claims” which are spiritually the lie. Unfortunately there is no middle ground, no grey areas. Either follow God, by His truth, as found in the Bible, or by default, follow the lie.

I trust that I have not offended anyone, if so; I apologize for the offence, but not for the truth of God. My only desire in this, is the hope that our spiritual eyes will be opened to God's truth, and we would become more able to hear the voice of Christ in our lives. May God richly bless you, Pastor Lynn
