AS IN THE DAYS OF NOAH – PART III

Technology is one of the vehicles that will be used to drive the general populace toward accepting the radical transformation of the planet. This will not just be economic – or political – or spiritual: But it will necessarily physiological in nature. The ‘THEY’ in all this – [and some of them don’t even know that they are working for the ‘THEY’] – are working toward the permanent alteration of the human species. As we have seen they are willing to push the very frontiers of science to achieve their goals; harnessing such areas as genetic manipulation, the creating of crossed species and new life forms as well as combining the human with the machine. It is this new form of humanity, they believe, that will create a population malleable enough to achieve the New World Order ‘THEY’ have planned.

A PEEK AT PART OF THE PLAN

“And all the world marveled and followed the beast.” (Revelation 13:3)

I’ve often wondered just how the entire world will come under the sway of a world system; - of a man – and march in lock step toward the acceptance of unimaginable evil as they proceed through the surrender of their basic human freedoms – and toward their own slavery and destruction. Then I remember the whole Nazi / Hitler phenomenon in Germany; a supposed ‘civilized’ nation that willingly forfeited its entire Christian heritage in a violent satanic orgy of both homicidal and suicidal fury. We’ve not walked so far from that road, it seems. But how, one asks. Part of the answer lies in the fact that we are raising up a new generation to which God has become irrelevant. A British survey of those born after 1982 found, that for the most part, “made do” with a ““very faded, inherited cultural memory of Christianity in the absence of anything else.”” A Church of England publication described the sad situation of this generation. “For the majority, religion and spirituality was irrelevant for day-to-day living; our young people were not looking for answers to ultimate questions.”^{1 2} But that’s only the prep work. It still doesn’t answer the question of how. A generation prepared is a necessary...but not sufficient condition to affect such change. However, the ‘THEY’ may indeed be working on providing the sufficient condition – and in the not too distant future.

So come back with me to an article published in the Toronto Star back in 2006. It provides what many see as a very viable blueprint of what would seem to be a naturally unfolding plan to achieve their ends – through the use of microchips planted underneath the skin. No matter how it may be sold to us, it is by no means a benign prospect. The title of the article is “One generation is all they need”, and it represents the thoughts of commentator Kevin Haggerty. He may have stumble closer to the truth than one dares imagine, for all its awful frightfulness. Here’s the sentence he used to begin all the fun. “By the time my four-year-old son is swathed in the soft flesh of old age, he will likely find it unremarkable that he and almost everyone he knows will be permanently implanted with a microchip. Automatically tracking his location in real time, it will connect him with databases monitoring and recording his smallest behavioural traits.” OK! Do I have your attention yet? The superscription on the online version of the article lays out the future for us in terms both stark and concise. “One day we will all happily be implanted with microchips, and our every move will be monitored. The technology exists; the only barrier is society’s resistance to the loss of privacy. An expert on surveillance and society lays out how corporations and governments will team up to break down that fragile barrier.”

Haggerty next begins to unfold the plan. It is already happening, you see. We've been chipping pets for awhile now, computer chips are tracking goods both in stores....and sometimes after items have left the stores. Still Americans & Westerners have set up attitudinal barriers to the wholesale chipping of human beings. But those attitudes must – and will – over time – be changed. Here's how.

“The process will be more subtle and cumulative.” It will all be about societal progress and personal “betterment”. He sees a three step process.

1. Get the public used to the technology
2. Put pressure on “tainted social groups” to get ‘chipped’
3. Entice the remaining population to partake of the benefits of chipping technology

The process would begin by starting the chipping process “at the periphery of the Western world”. This would “familiarize a global audience with the technology and habituate them to the idea that chipping represents a potential future. Next, countries in the West would begin implanting “stigmatized groups” like pedophiles, drug dealers, terrorists, and then the general criminal population. [All in the name of “peace and safety.”] Then the accused might be included, perhaps next; welfare recipients. To this last group the functions of the chips would expand from identification and tracking to serve a financial purpose. If you don't have the chip, you won't be able to access your public assistance account. You won't be able to buy anything. [Mmmm, sound familiar?] And though civil libertarians may protest, it will be hard to get much “public sympathy for criminals and welfare recipients.” From there it will likely spread to security services; the US Military, state and local police forces. “Employers will start to expect implants as a condition of getting a job.”

Haggerty then goes into a detailed description of what may follow next. “At this juncture, an unfortunately common tragedy of modern life will occur: A small child, likely a photogenic toddler, will be murdered or horrifically abused. It will happen in one of the media capitals of the Western world, thereby ensuring non-stop breathless coverage. Chip manufactures will recognize this as the opportunity they have been anticipating for years.” This will be followed by “a high-profile campaign encouraging parents to implant their children.” After all, it is all about the safety of the children.

Finally, by making an increasing number of public services – [mass transit, air travel perhaps] – limited to those who can be identified and tracked via a readable chip – the deal will be sealed. Over time, the implanted microchip will become the “precondition for engaging in the main dynamics of modern life...In one generation then, the cultural distaste....will likely fade.”³ And thus, almost imperceptibly, we get to the reality of the fulfillment of Revelation 13:16-17. “He causes all, both small and great, rich and poor, free and slave, to receive a mark on their right hand or on their foreheads, and that no one may buy or sell except one who has the mark or the name of the beast, or the number of his name.”

This Is Reality

Don't think this is some crazy, conspiracist dream. Here's the testimony of Dr Jose Delgado before Congress on February 24, 1974. (He, by the way, was the Director of Neuropsychiatry Yale University Medical School.) “We need a program of PSYCHOSURGERY for POLITICAL CONTROL of our society. The purpose is PHYSICAL CONTROL OF THE MIND. Everyone who deviates from the given norm can be SURGICALLY MUTILATED...Man does NOT HAVE THE RIGHT to develop his own mind. This kind of liberal orientation has great appeal. We must ELECTRICALLY CONTROL THE BRAIN. Some day armies and generals will be controlled by electric stimulation of the brain.”⁴ YES, IT DOES SOUND INSANE! Yet the evidence is out there that it is very real. Writing in the year 2000, Rauni-Leena Luukanen-Kilde, MD, the former Chief Medical Officer of Finland published an article, Microchip Implants, Mindcontrol and Cybernetics, in which he wrote, that “our liberty is threatened Orwellian-style by cybernetic technology totally unknown to most people. This technology links the brains of people via implanted microchips to satellites controlled by ground-based super-computers.” Dr Luukanen-Kilde envisions a world in which “Implanted human beings can be followed anywhere” and their brain functions remotely monitored.⁵ The system already in place – and operated in this country by the NSA, can “simultaneously handle and follow millions of people.”^{6 7} This technology is not new. It goes back to at least 1960, when the CIA’s MKULTRA program researched ways to harness “radio energy” to influence a persons behavior. Many early experiments concentrated on techniques of “tranquilization” and “suggestibility”. It wasn’t long before they were working on employing “modulated electromagnetic energy directly into the subconscious parts of the human brain” in order to alter a subject’s state of consciousness.⁸

The research has advanced amazingly in recent years. ELF or Extremely Low Frequencies can be used now to affect human behavior in amazing ways. As far back as the 1950’s, a “telepathy machine” was being developed called the Neurophone. This device has “capabilities to transmit acoustic (sounds, voices) directly into the brain of an individual using the electromagnetic fields.” That’s just one of many uses for the technology. Government research has revealed an array of capabilities that include the abilities to; induce sleep, depress, create fear of panic, ‘zombify’, induce a violent state, sexual aggression, affect hormone levels and “control the DNA transaction process”. One form is called DEWs or Directed Energy Weapons. These weapons are capable of causing debilitating pain, confusion, manipulating heart and breathing rates, inducing leukemia and other forms of cancer, memory input and control, subliminal control, visual hallucinations or even burns. Next consider that there are chip implants that are capable of creating many of these same effects including again holographic images in a subject’s brain. The possibilities for a completely controlled society – micromanaged on the individual level - are enormous. As Herman Kahn of the Hudson Institute admitted, the goal is nothing short of complete mind control.^{9 10}

This is all not so very far fetched. Tomorrow is now. Even Hillary Clinton admitted, “At the rate that technology is advancing, people will be implanting chips in our children to advertise directly into their brains.”¹¹ Even the mainstream is starting to get this. This is the key to universal bondage; - the merging of the human mind with the machine; some not-so-distant future centralized global computer system. The ‘THEY’ intend that we live in a world of virtual reality, with memory chips, and vision chips and genetic alterations that remove change us from being the beings that God created in His own image. So yes, this is the reality. And this technology is in the hands of the PTB and is being harnessed for their purposes. Mind control, chipping, the ‘mark of the beast’, are all on the board, ready to be deployed for the advancement of the coming New World Order, with its other-worldly, occult theology, and its political expression in the coming Regime of the Antichrist.

IT [? CAN’T ?] HAPPEN HERE ? ??

France has it all. Exploding cars, clashes with police, hundreds thousands in the streets, fuel shortages and a president who vows to bring “extremists to their knees.” The French government is budget-cutting its way out of debt – and the people don’t like it. Pensions are being slashed, retirement age raised and vacation time cut back. It’s much the same in Greece...and there’s trouble their too.^{12 13} Britain too, has announced massive spending cuts. The average government department in the UK will lose 19% of its budget over the next four years. Welfare, public pensions and money for the local councils are all being cut dramatically. Forty-two thousand British civil servants will lose their positions. And even the Defence budget will shrink by 8%. That’s big stuff. So far no riots in the streets, though.¹⁴

What does that mean for America? Well we can’t be sure. But we do know some things. We know that, - as reported here, - the government has put in place much of the infrastructure to take care of an outbreak of civil disturbances, should they come to this country. We know too, that states and local governments are facing enormous budgetary pressures and will likely not be able to continue meeting its obligations. Those European cuts seem on their way to America. And there is little that the Federal government can do about short of printing dollars – which will make them increasingly worthless. Now a leading member of the French Societe Generale believes that a revolt may be on its way to the US, driven by a ‘declining standard of living’ and unworkable economic arrangements.¹⁵ In that opinion he is joined by such futurists as Gerald Celente, who believes that America will become the world’s first undeveloped country. In France, the youths that are hitting the streets are afraid of their welfare being cut off. What will happen here in America the first time a state defaults and cannot pay out public assistance? Recall, the US Army War College “violent, strategic dislocation” driven by “unforeseen economic collapse”.¹⁶ Are we on the verge of all that? Well, perhaps.

Just as the French unrest is being organized and abetted by Unions and Socialists – so too the same groups in the US will feel the same most put upon by austerity measures and will see the greatest opportunity for political gain. The system will have ‘failed’ them. But the fact is, the situation here in the US is really as bad as some believe. Unemployment during the Great Depression peaked out at about 25%. Using the same methodology – not the watered down figures of contemporary government statistical methodology – the real unemployment rate runs at about 22.5%. Even the award winning CBS News magazine, 60 Minutes admits that the rate is in excess of 17%. We’ve just been hiding the pain of it all with the likes of public assistance safety nets and 99 weeks of unemployment. In many cases, that long-term unemployment is starting to run out.

So just how bad is it going to get. Well, we know from signals the Fed is sending that they are preparing for another round of ‘quantitative easing’ – that means buying US debt – you know, printing money. Wheeee! Goldman Sach’s analysts have concluded that it will take about $4 trillion in new money just to start to bring the economy back to normally functioning. That’s four-times what much of the main stream press is warning is on the horizon. Another of their strategists concludes that it’s even a lot worse than that. He believes that ‘the Fed will not stop until it prints nearly ten trillion in incremental money beginning on November 3.’ Intended or not, that kind of monetary expansion will over time produce pressures that will drive up the rate of inflation. Again, the Fed has admitted that that’s a risk they are willing to take. [How noble of them!] And inflation is a direct attack against the savings of middle class Americans. The plan then is to pay off the skyrocketing debt with cheaper / more worthless dollars. But even that won’t be enough. A lot of budgeting cutting will be required to continue to operate the government; - And it will not be up to the ‘Standard-of-Benefits’ – to which the US populace has become accustomed.

Now, William Buitter of Citi and Howard Davies of the London School of Economics, both agree that the wave of budget pressures that is just starting to peak in America will result in “savage austerity”. That brings a new danger. As Zero Hedge’s Tyler Durden puts it: “[*T*he possibility of actual austerity in the US would result with riots so severe it will make the ongoing economic freeze in France seem like the peak of Chinese economic growth.” I don’t know if he’s right about that – but there are a lot of folks in high places that are betting that he is. [Remember, it’s the power behind the Elites – the Uber-Elite – if you will – that are driving the crisis – and that by their own admission – seek to create and use crisis to their advantage in the creation of a New World Order.] So just send the bill to our children and grandchildren and their grandchildren after that. The global economy has made sure the prosperity is never likely to return – at least in the old ways. Jobs will not be coming back from the Third World. The American middle class will continue to get squeezed. And the Global Elite will continue to acquire a bigger and bigger piece of the pie.^{17 18 19 20}

NORTH AMERICAN UNION ALERT

The US Customs and Border Commissioner told a Washington audience that the “best way” to secure our border with Mexico – which by the way is in the throes of near-civil war over the illegal drug industry – is to open a “road to citizenship” for illegal aliens. What we need, it seems, is “a paradigm shift – a change in how people view the border.” [Like perhaps, we shouldn’t view it as being there at all!] We need a “21st Century border”.²¹ [You know, one that doesn’t really exist!]
