EGYPT: FALLOUT

“And I will set the Egyptians against the Egyptians: and they shall fight every one against his brother, and every one against his neighbour; city against city, and kingdom against kingdom.” (Isaiah 19:2) (KJV)

The violence that is breaking out in Egypt and now spreading through the Middle East is severely threatening the status-quo of the ‘Ancien Regime’. An analysis in the Israeli paper Haaretz put it thus. “The old order in the Middle East is crumbling. Just as the officers’ revolution in the 1950s brought down the Arab monarchism that had relied on the colonial powers, the 2011 revolution in the square is bringing down the Arab tyrants who were dependent on the United States.” It went on to explain the reasons for what is happening. “Modernization, globalization, telecommunications and Islamization have created a critical mass that cannot be stopped. The example of democratic Iraq is awakening others, and Al Jazeera’s subversive broadcasts are fanning the flames. And so the Tunisian bastille fell, the Cairo bastille is falling and other Arab bastilles will fall.” This is all made possible because the power of the West is declining in relative terms. The US and Europe cannot quite call the shots the way they used to; - nor does the mindset of the Arab street grant them that privilege any longer.¹ As true as all that may be, it perhaps missed something else, darker and more sinister.

The first factor would be the violent nature of Islam itself. It is, in both its tenets and practice, a religion of death and forced submission. While the violence of Christianized Europe during the Crusades is always castigated and condemned – it is routinely forgotten what drove the Pope’s to call those Crusades in the first place. Islam was on a rampage, conquering and slaughtering not only in the lands of the Middle East – but in places like Spain and Portugal and Eastern Europe too. Find a land that is primarily run under Sharia Law – and you will find no religious tolerance there. Christianity is outlawed in Saudi Arabia – conversion from Islam is punishable – by death – in some lands. And Christians are even routinely persecuted in more ‘open’ and secular cultures like Egypt. Now while in the past we’ve made the case from the Koran itself, that Islam promotes violence against those who do not embrace it, we’ll now use some other sources to buttress that argument. Writing in The American Thinker, author Dave Gaubatz quotes from several Muslim sources – including the Hadith, their second most revered book to make the case that Radical Islam IS Mainstream Islam. Here are just a few of the nuggets he offers.

- *“The objective of Islamic Jihad is to put an end to the dominance of the un-Islamic systems of government and replace them with Islamic rule, Islam intends to bring about this revolution not in one country or in a few countries but in the entire world.”*²
- *“Islam requires the earth -- not just a portion, but the whole planet.”*³
- *“Every Muslim should have the desire for martyrdom in his heart.”*⁴

And don’t be fooled into thinking that the concept of Jihad can ultimately mean something peaceful. Here’s another Islamic offering on the subject. *“In short, despite waging a jihad with the tongue, pen, rationale and intellect, the Muslim community cannot be absolved of the duty of waging physical jihad.”*⁵ Did you get that? Physical Jihad! So when Christian converts in a certain East Asian country I know are fired from their jobs and beaten for leaving Islam – it is all within the framework of what is taught as mainstream Islam. Or when a man I know there is three times beaten, thrown into a garbage bag and left for dead – or crucified with heavy stones hung from his genitals – it is but the outworking of the teachings of the Prophet Mohammed and the ‘Religion of Peace’!

Secondly, there is the specter of outside manipulation. There are forces in place that – among the elites – (especially those that have openly called or worked for a One World Government) – that have their hand in the regional troubles. Billionaire George Soros, who has supported revolutions in various countries around the globe, has funded opposition groups in Egypt and elsewhere in the region. Soros has made no secret of the fact that he supports World Government, the end of the Dollar's role as the globe's reserve currency. Soros-funded organizations have in the past worked closely with the Muslim Brotherhood in their drive to acquire more political power. The latest Egyptian savior, Mohammed el Baradei, - who is being put forth as the establishment candidate to run that country - "has also sat on the board of an international 'crisis management' group alongside Soros and other personalities who champion dialogue with Hamas, a violent offshoot of the Muslim Brotherhood." World Net Daily reports that other "U.S. board members include Zbigniew Brzezinski, who was national security adviser to Jimmy Carter; Samuel Berger, who was Bill Clinton's national security adviser; and retired U.S. ambassador Thomas Pickering, who made headlines in 2009 after meeting with Hamas leaders and calling for the U.S. to open ties to the Islamist group."⁶ El Baradei, as head of the UN's International Atomic Energy Commission, routinely dismissed the notion that Iran was seeking to build nuclear weapons. So we can trust him.... You see, the Left in the US is intimately tied to Radical Islam. Just harken back a few months to the Gaza Flotilla that tried to break into Gaza, and which film showed its members brutally attacking Israeli military personnel who boarded them to turn them around. The likes of Bill Ayers, and Bernadine Dohrn and Code Pink were all allied with the Muslim Brotherhood in that endeavor. [Ayers of course is the unregenerate bomb throwing 60's radical cum college professor, who only wishes that he could have done more in the revolutionary cause. And we can never forget the Ayers Obama connection.]

Now what's most troubling about all of this is that the Obama administration has signaled that it is fine with the notion that the Muslim Brotherhood participate in the next government in Cairo. Now a Reuters headline dated February 6th read: "Tide turns in favour of Egypt's Brotherhood in revolt."⁷ And therein lies the rub. You see, should the Brotherhood take control of the Egyptian government, that would turn American foreign policy in the region on its head - as well as threaten the very survival of our principal ally in the region; Israel. Now the Israelis are taking all of this very seriously. They see any emerging Muslim Brotherhood state as but a client of the Iranians. Jerusalem would expect that Egypt would thus become just another outpost of the Arab-Palestinian cause, with rockets and weapons shipped in, much as they are to Hamas in Gaza; becoming in effect a "terror state".⁸ And the Brotherhood is making no secret of its intentions. Spokesman Rashad al-Bayoumi went on TV to declare: "After President Mubarak steps down and a provisional government is formed, there is a need to dissolve the peace treaty with Israel."⁹ Of course this again is in line with the core teachings of the Muslim faith. For the true Muslim faithful, there can be no compromise - with Israel or any other nation for that matter. The entire world is to be conquered for Allah. "The objective of the Islamic 'Jihad' is to eliminate the rule of an un-Islamic system and establish in its stead an Islamic system of state rule. Islam does not intend to confine this revolution to a single State or a few Countries; the aim of Islam is to bring about a universal revolution."¹⁰

What is happening now across the Middle East is a forming of that Islamic Caliphate. Egypt is but a part of the general storm that is buffeting the region. In the last couple of years Turkey has moved out of the Western orbit and is becoming increasingly Islamist in its leanings. It dissolved its strong military relationship that it had with Israel. Lebanon has fallen under Hezbollah control; and that group is but a client of the Mahdi-seeking Iranians. Muslim Brotherhood connected Hamas is in control in Gaza. The Tunisian government has toppled, and the Islamists could seize control in elections later this year. [The thing to remember about the 'Democracy Movement' in Muslim countries is that it does not come with Western values attached. Elections almost always produce radical / religious regimes such as Hamas. We can look to the 1980 Iranian Revolution and see where the popular movement took that nation.] Other nations in serious danger of radicalization include Yemen and Algeria. And even Jordan and Syria are facing some issues. We may just be witnessing the early stages of the formation of a Caliphate that would take in a large swath of territory across all of northern Africa and into East Asia. (What happens, for instance when America pulls her troops out of Iraq? Does that country fall under the influence of the Mad-Mullah's of Tehran.¹¹

Now Scripture tells us that Israel's neighbors will one day launch a major attack against Israel. This first war is laid out for us in Psalm 83, the Book of Obadiah, Isaiah 17 - and elsewhere. It will include all of Israel's near neighbors. We've noted before how this Scripture uses the ancient names of peoples to identify Israel's modern enemies. Obadiah 1:18 tells of the destruction of the Palestinian people. Isaiah 17:1 describes the total annihilation of Damascus. As we watch an alliance is forming. Many of the players named in Psalm 83 are coming together. They have already settled on their purpose. "Keep not thou silence, O God: hold not thy peace, and be not still, O God. For, lo, thine enemies make a tumult: and they that hate thee have lifted up the head. They have taken crafty counsel against thy people, and consulted against thy hidden ones. They have said, Come, and let us cut them off from being a nation; that the name of Israel may be no more in remembrance." (Psalm 83) (KJV) [Next Time: A closer look at the history of the Muslim Brotherhood]

OF DEMONS & ALIENS

OK. Here's some crazy stuff. If you've been a reader of this newsletter you know that we've made the case in some detail that there is indeed something to this whole UFO / ET thing – but it's not what most people think. I won't make the whole argument again, but suffice it to say that using Genesis 6 as our starting point, we believe that the entire Extraterrestrial phenomena is demonic, a product of the Fallen Angels who followed Lucifer in rebellion against God. That said: Let's get to some of the latest developments.

Now, several issues ago this newsletter made reference to a rumor that I came upon from a private connected source – that said that early this year – 2011 - NASA would begin to reveal that the Aliens were real, and that we had had contact with them. So in the middle of January I ran across this headline. “World Business Leaders meeting in Saudi Arabia hear that UFO/ET's are real.” The story is this. Some of the biggest, most important business leaders on the planet – paying $5000 a ticket for the conference – attended meetings at which an entire day was dedicated to convincing them that UFOs exist – and that they will be a part of our near-future. Stanton Friedman opened the proceedings but declaring unequivocally that “Flying saucers are real!” But the message was more than that. It was: Get ready for the changes that will bring. It will even alter the way that we get and employ energy – and therefore – do business. EXONEWS listed some of the participants. These are some heavy hitters. “Up to 1000 participants included business and political elites such as former British and Canadian Prime Ministers, Tony Blair and Jean Chretien; Jim Albaugh, President and CEO of Boeing; Andy Bird, chairman of Walt Disney International; Jared Cohen, Director of Google ideas, and many others.”^{12 13}

Now add this. Xinhua, the Chinese national TV service reported that President Obama may be getting ready to officially disclose the fact that the United States has made contact – and even has some sort of official relationship with several extraterrestrial races. The Examiner speculated that the Chinese news story may have been driven by some jealousy that Washington might beat Beijing to the punch and be the first country to make the announcement. They opined: “The first nation to authoritatively announce the Extraterrestrial presence stands to gain world prestige and trust.”¹⁴ China has been experiencing some significant UFO activity over the last year. In early July, 2010, China's Xiaoshan Airport, a military facility, was closed for an hour or so, due to a UFO first picked up on radar. Then in September it happened again at Baotou Airport in China's Inner Mongolia.^{15 16} Now with all of this, I just have this to say: I'm not saying – I'm just saying. Got it?

Finally add this. There seems to be a lot of increased UFO activity recently. There is footage from multiple sources of an Unidentified Flying Object that hovered over the Dome of the Rock in Jerusalem on January 28th. There is some evidence, despite the existence of multiple videos, that these videos may have been a hoax. The jury is still out on that. Then there are the strange lights that appeared over American Fork, Utah on January 26th.^{17 18} There were others seen hovering over Queensland, Australia on January 21st and Nebraska on February 4th.¹⁹

We may not know just what the nature of all these sightings and rumors may be but we do know this. The Illuminati / New World Order types have told us in their writings and speeches that an End Times Alien Deception is an integral part of their plans to bring about One World Government and a New Age Christ. Peter Lemesurier said as much in his 1980 New York Times best seller, The Armageddon Script. And former Secretary of State for President's Nixon and Ford, Henry Kissinger; who is a member of the Rockefeller cadre in the drive toward global government and a key player in the Bilderbergs and other NWO forums - gave us this quote to chew on. It came to an address at the Bilderberger meeting held in Evian, France in 1991 It was transcribed from a tape recording made by one of the Swiss delegates to the meetings. *“Today, America would be outraged if UN troops entered Los Angeles to restore order. Tomorrow they will be grateful! This is especially true if they were told that there was an outside threat from beyond, whether real or promulgated, that threatened our very existence. It is then that all people of the world will plead to deliver them from this evil. The one thing every man fears is the unknown. When presented with this scenario, individual rights will be willingly relinquished for the guarantee of their well-being granted to them by the world government.”*²⁰

‘REASON’ TO BELIEVE – PART IV

Today we'll get into some of the fun stuff; - The amazing and very specific prophesies of the Bible.

COUNTING DOWN...BUT JUST #3

- Daniel Predicts The Exact Day – In Daniel chapter 9, written just about 530 years or so before the birth of Christ, the prophet predicts Christ's entry into his Kingdom to the very day. Check this out. Based on Daniel's prophecy, 1st century rabbis, those writing when Jesus was alive, - expected the arrival of Messiah right around that time. The Magi arrived seeking Him partially informed by a detailed knowledge of Jewish Scripture which had been gained by Zoroastrian wise men and astrologers since the time of Daniel himself.²¹ The Essenes, who produced the famous Dead Sea Scrolls, were another religious community that believed that the prophecy would shortly be fulfilled in first century Palestine.

Here's the prophecy they were all excited about, Daniel 9:25-26: “Know therefore and understand, That from the going forth of the command To restore and build Jerusalem Until Messiah the Prince, There shall be seven weeks and sixty-two weeks; The street shall be built again, and the wall, Even in troublesome times. And after the sixty-two weeks Messiah shall be cut off, but not for Himself; And the people of the prince who is to come Shall destroy the city and the sanctuary.”

It sounds confusing, so let's start breaking it down. Sir Robert Anderson, a former head of Scotland Yard and a Christian scholar first researched the issue back in the 1890's. He made an amazing discovery. So let's look at the timing: “from the going forth of the command To restore and build Jerusalem Until Messiah the Prince, There shall be seven weeks and sixty-two weeks”. Here's what we know:

- History tells us that King Artaxerxes Longimanus issued a decree to rebuild Jerusalem on the 1st day of the Jewish month of Nisan in the 20th year of his reign.
- Sir Robert used the Encyclopedia Britannica to begin his research, finding out just when King Artaxerxes came to the throne. It was simple to calculate that the day the decree was issued was the 1st day of Nisan, 445 BC. That correlates with March 14th of that year.
- “There shall be seven weeks and sixty-two weeks”. The Hebrew word used here is Shabuim, and means weeks of years or a 7-year period.
- Sixty-nine weeks of years multiplied by seven gives us 483 years. But these are Hebrew or prophetic years of 360 days each.
- So Anderson converted the years to days; multiplying the 483 years by the 360 days required by the Jewish calendar. That comes to exactly 173,880 days.
- He counted forward from the 1st of Nisan, 445 BC. Anderson and the scholars who checked his work all came up with the same answer: The 10th of Nisan, or April 6th, AD 32.
- We know from the Scripture that Jesus went up to the Temple to celebrate the Feast of Passover. Quoting Robert Anderson now: “In accordance with the Jewish custom, the Lord went up to Jerusalem on the 8th of Nisan, ‘six days before the Passover’”. Two days later, on the 10th of Nisan, (the date the prophecy indicated), Jesus made His triumphal entry into the Holy City.
- That date was the original Palm Sunday. It was the day that Jesus rode into Jerusalem on a colt, fulfilling the prophecy of Zechariah 9:9. Now there had been more than one occasion that Jesus had refused the opportunity to be proclaimed King. This was the first and only time that Jesus the Messiah accepted his role of King.
- It occurred exactly 173,880 days from the day the decree was issued to rebuild Jerusalem; March 14, 445 BC.²²

Confirming Evidence: Historian, physician and Gospel writer Luke is a confirming witness. Luke is rated to be a scholar of impeccable historical accuracy. Here is his testimony.

- In the 3rd chapter of Luke it states that Jesus was about 30 years of age when he was baptized by John in the Jordan River. Luke specifically identifies it as the “fifteenth year of the reign of Tiberius Caesar”. (Luke 3:1) That's an easily traceable time period on which scholars can agree. It puts Jesus Baptism in the autumn of AD 28.
- That puts the end of Jesus' three-and-a-half year ministry in the spring of AD 32.
- Christ's final Passover then was on April 10, 32 AD. The Sunday before that was April 6th. That's the day that Jesus rode into Jerusalem to the acclamation of the crowds; proclaimed as King and Messiah. Again, that's the very first Palm Sunday.
- Luke's historical account lines up exactly with Daniel's prophetic one.^{25 26}
