CONNECTIONS – PART III

In PART II we detailed some of the radical-Islamic influence behind what is being portrayed as a 'democratic revolution' sweeping the North Africa and the Middle East. We saw how this foundational ethic motivating the current revolts is moving the region toward the formation of a Caliphate. Such a development would fulfill prophecies found in sacred Muslim literature. It moves those nations toward the formation of the confederacy foretold in Psalm 83 – one that will someday – (soon perhaps) – demand the destruction of Israel as a nation. The ensuing chaos would bring to realization the dream of the appearance of the Mahdi, who is to lead united Islam to a successful military campaign against the Jewish state – capturing Jerusalem – instituting – eventually – a Muslim-dominated world government – and the ensuing persecution and execution of Christians and Jews. Many of those events are mirrored in Biblical prophecy. Finally, and this is where we left off, the formation such a pan-Islamic confederacy – the Caliphate – would be, in some sense the realization of a key part of the plan for the political reorganization of the globe along the lines laid out by the Club of Rome back in 1973. There is interesting evidence that the Western action with regard to the region may be being driven by those same goals. The plan, according to the Club of Rome boys, is to divide the world into ten Supernations or Kingdoms – who would then cede ultimate power to a world government. That too is directly in line with Scripture. Thus we begin.

BUILDING THE NEW WORLD SYSTEM

“And after these things I saw another angel come down from heaven, having great power; and the earth was lightened with his glory. And he cried mightily with a strong voice, saying, Babylon the great is fallen, is fallen, and is become the habitation of devils...for thy merchants were the great men of the earth; for by thy sorceries were all nations deceived.” (Revelation 18:1-2, 23) (KJV)

Gone is the old paradigm; the old way of looking at things. Left and Right are outdated motifs when considering the politics of the 21st century. The Agenda is the New World Order. Bankers tout it openly. ‘We need a one world currency’, say they. Politicians campaign for ‘New World Order’. The last days will be a time of deception, we are told. Many will be fooled – by false prophets and faux messiahs. Jesus warned: “For false christs and false prophets will rise and show great signs and wonders to deceive, if possible, even the elect.” (Matthew 24:24) In their efforts to deceive the world, the elites will deceive themselves. “For your merchants were the great men of the earth, for by your sorcery all the nations were deceived.” (Revelation 18:23) You see, we are moving...somewhere out of our control. And in the process concepts are dressed up and disguised and motives are hidden and misrepresented. ‘Situations’ are manufactured, Artificial crises are put into place...and then solutions will be offered. It is all part of the circumstances of Christ’s return. “For you yourselves know perfectly that the day of the Lord so comes as a thief in the night. 3 For when they say, 'Peace and safety!' then sudden destruction comes upon them, as labor pains upon a pregnant woman. And they shall not escape.” (1Thessalonians 5:2-3) No, we are not there yet. But we are closing in.

And so deception is in play. Is that really ‘Democracy’ raising its head across Africa and the Middle East? Or is it something dark, more sinister and radically violent, repressive and Islamist? Nevertheless change is what we face. UN Secretary General Ban Ki-moon puts it thus: “Revolutionary change is sweeping the Arab world, with repercussions that will be felt everywhere and by all.” He sees it as “no less transformative” than 1989 – the year that Eastern Europe shook free of dictatorial Communist domination.¹ True indeed!

He does not tell us however another emerging, yet salient fact. There is increasing evidence that much of this phenomena – if not fully engineered – is being aided and abetted in order to achieve some predetermined goal. Take for instance the policy doctrine that is being used to justify the entry by the US and the West into the Libyan conflict: It is something they’re calling ‘Responsibility To Protect Doctrine’, or R2P.” It was the justification behind UN Resolution 1973 that set up the no-fly zone in Libya. Of course it is being couched in the most benign terms. It is ostensibly put in place to protect civilians – using any necessary means. But it is hardly what it seems. It is a policy, adopted by President Obama and pushed by the likes of National Security Advisor Samantha Power and leftist NWO advocate George Soros. In the words of Rick Moran it uses military intervention to mask “an agenda to alter drastically the concept of state sovereignty and to allow the United Nations to essentially co-opt the US military.”² As such it is a tool of the International Elite – the ‘Banksters’, if you will, manipulating policy to achieve their desired outcome. Back in 2008 the Heritage Foundation warned: “R2P would effectively cede U.S. national sovereignty and decision-making power over key components of national security and foreign policy and subject them to the whims of the international community.”³ Does that overstate the case? I think not! Just look at how it is playing out. French President Sarkozy warned ‘all Arab rulers’ against actions against their citizens or defying the international community – or face ‘intervention’. Here’s what he had to say to Syria with regard to their protests. “Every ruler should understand, and especially every Arab ruler should understand that the reaction of the international community and of Europe will from this moment on each time be the same: we will be on the side of peaceful protesters who must not be repressed with violence.” It all sounds so noble. But the International Community – as advised and instructed by the Controlling Elites will have their ultimate say in choosing where to intervene. It’s not really about protecting populations but about advancing the Globalist Agenda.⁴ David Bay of Cutting Edge Ministries explains it like this. Its purpose is to “destabilize the entire region so all countries can be melded meekly into the planned regional government.” As to the protests: They are “deliberately being triggered.” But you say, ‘No, that can’t be! You’re a conspiracy theorist and a fear monger.’⁵ Well let’s take a look at some of the evidence.

Let’s start with the timing, for instance. Though the Obama Administration claims to have been caught by surprise by the whole Arab Revolt Thing – I don’t really believe that’s so. [I mean: Who could have possibly known? ...It was all so unforeseeable...] It was back in 2009 that Administration officials were meeting members of the Muslim Brotherhood – (who even the New York Times now acknowledges are heading toward power in Egypt and elsewhere around the region) – and accepting their statements that they had given up on violence at face value. In November of that year US Security Council Officials were talking about getting more involved in Egypt. The next link in the chain was that Leftist / Globalist and often Soros backed groups began getting together to step up efforts to aid Egypt’s drive toward democracy. These included Human Rights Watch, The Center for American Progress, The Carnegie Foundation and the Brookings Institute.⁶ In one report from Brookings, the think tank talked openly about using the “Arab street” and using it against the likes of Libya, Syria and Iran.⁷ [But of course I ask again: Who could have possibly known?]

Tony Cartalucci of Infowars explains. “In Syria, resistance to the Western-backed opposition is a similar direct challenge to the corporate-financier oligarchs. Nations like Syria, Iran, Libya, Burma, Belarus, and many others are demonized and systematically isolated and undermined not because they are a threat to the world, but because their independence and refusal to acquiesce is an obstacle before a corporate-financier ruled world government.” He goes on to tell us that our own State Department has admitted funding tech firms that used third parties to train protesters across the entire troubled region.⁸ And now it has come out that the CIA along with British elements have been operating in Libya, advising, and coordinating the opposition.⁹ Reports are rampant that Special Forces of the United States, Britain and France have been operating training camps for the rebels since late February. Infowars informs us that “The US has been arming the rebels for weeks, if not months, via arms shipped through Saudi Arabia and Egypt.”¹⁰ [No! No one could have possibly guessed this was coming.] The fact is – this was all anticipated – and even manipulated – long before events unfolded on the ground. Despite claims to the contrary, the public record shows that the administration was aware all along where this thing was going. Back during the last midterm elections – in November of 2010 – White House officials were meeting with ‘pro-democracy advocates’ from Egypt. As one spokesman put it, Washington recognized that “Stability in Egypt is an illusion, and we have to get on the right side of this thing.” The administration team that met with the Egyptians was none other than the National Security Council and included by the way, Samantha Power.^{11 12} So there is no way that the President was left unaware or without plans in the matter. It explains too, why the White House was willing to blithely consider partnering with the Muslim Brotherhood. All of this only makes sense when you look at it in the context of an internationally generated plan. Thus a current editorial in the Council on Foreign Relations own organ – Foreign Policy Magazine – the semi-official mouthpiece of the Global Elites – is now arguing: “The Case for Intervention in the Ivory Coast.”¹³ That’s where we are at right now – but it’s where this is all taking us is even more interesting. Where it’s taking us is Israel.

President Obama makes no bones about telling Israel that it must carve itself up and create a Palestinian state. His advisor, Samantha Power has in the past made noises about using the popular new doctrine against – you guessed it – Israel. Now Power is tied closely to George Soros. If you want to know her position on Israel, we need only go back to a 2002 interview she gave, in which she said, “alienating a domestic constituency of tremendous political and financial import” (Jewish Americans) should not prevent the United States from investing money ‘In the new state of Palestine’ rather than in “servicing Israel’s military.” So we clearly know which team she is playing for. Now, the chief international proponent of R2P was a group called the Global Center for the Responsibility to Protect. The New American tells us that it’s board includes “former UN Secretary Kofi Annan, former Ireland President Mary Robinson, and South African activist Desmond Tutu. Robinson and Tutu have made a number of visits to the Hamas-controlled Gaza Strip.” Another organization tied to the concept is the International Crisis Group which is lobbying Algeria to stop operations against al-Qaeda and to have the US “normalize ties with the Muslim Brotherhood.” This is at its root an anti-Israeli set up. Here’s Raven Calbough again in The New American to sum this up. “What is so dangerous about the Responsibility to Protect, advocated by Soros, Power, Obama, and Sunstein, is how the doctrine can be used against Israel in calls for international intervention in the conflict between Israel and Palestine.”¹⁴ In fact, it’s starting to happen already. CNS reports on the subject. “Richard Falk, the U.N.’s ‘special rapporteur on human rights in the occupied Palestinian territories,’ said in a report delivered to the Human Rights Council in Geneva on Monday that Israeli policies amount to ‘ethnic cleansing’ and ‘crimes against humanity.’”¹⁵ The idea in the whole process is to paint Israel as guilty of war crimes whenever it takes action to protect itself.¹⁶ A proponent of R2P, Falk left unsaid the natural next step in the process: Applying the doctrine to Israel. Besides taking on a natural enemy of the godless left, such an action would advance the principle of international action trumping national sovereignty. How they must be salivating over the prospect of such a political double treat.

In any case – whether planned or nay – actions against Israel are ramping up from the newly emerging Middle East. Palestinians are launching rockets and terror attacks against civilian targets and slitting the throats of children as they slept. A ship bound for Egypt was seized by the Israeli Navy. It came originally from Turkey – (future member of the Magog Alliance against Israel) – stopped in Syria – (part of the Psalm 83 Alliance) – carrying weapons for the Palestinians – (Psalm 83 and Obadiah). The weapons on board came from Iran – (Magog Alliance). Included were rockets capable of destroying 3,000 ton targets, heading to terrorist operatives in Gaza.^{17 18} But always remember: Israel is the evil party. And now, the Libyan rebels - the group we're supporting in that conflict - the ones that President Obama wants to arm - was found to have sold Hezbollah and Hamas "chemical shells from the stocks of mustard and nerve gas" which they seized from government arsenals.¹⁹ Whose side are we on anyway? And while all this goes on, the Palestinians plot with the UN General Assembly to declare a Palestinian state as early as September of this year²⁰ - and - uses FACEBOOK to build a constituency to attempt to organize hundreds of thousands of Arabs to "return" to their homes in Israel on May 15th of this year.²¹

The backdrop for the escalating violence is the increasing pressure on Israel to cave in the matter of establishing a Palestinian entity. It is now the intention of the UK, France and Germany to push a new peace initiative that would give birth to 'Palestine' by the Fall of this year. What they are likely to propose is two states, adhering to the pre-1967 borders, with Jerusalem serving as capital for both Israel and the new nation. The European nations seem already to have one the hearts - and votes of the General Assembly of the UN to their cause.^{22 23} In the meantime, the forces specifically named in Psalm 83 continue to marshal against Israel. The IDF released a map of 1,000 illegal underground bunkers and weapons facilities - (according to the UN) - belonging to Hezbollah, in southern Lebanon.²⁴ Israeli military planning has now shifted toward taking on all-comers in a multi-front war that - not coincidentally - would include the very enemies mentioned in that scripture as well as in Obadiah 1 and Isaiah. Their modern names are Hezbollah (Lebanon), Syria and Hamas (the Palestinians).²⁵ In the meantime, Iran continues its preparations to bring the Mahdi to power through the vehicle of contrived chaos. That chaos will be achieved - in their minds - through the destruction of Israel and the fulfillment of Islamic prophecy in the process. That attempt will fulfill the prophetic words of Ezekiel 38 & 39.²⁶ Stay tuned for more...next time.

THE ENEMY WE FACE - PART IV

Conflict and war are integral parts of the character of Islam itself. Its history and practice has created an atmosphere of animosity with those who do not worship Allah and a culture of hate and death among its adherents. It is a conflict that has its beginning in the dim recesses of time, dating back to the days of Abraham Ishmael and Isaac. It is destined to continue to the End of the Age.

ISLAM: SOURCE OF UNENDING CONFLICT

The problem is the Land! And the problem is the promise God made to give it to Israel! That is the source of the entire conflict. In Deuteronomy 1:7-8, God defined the boundaries of His promise to Israel. "Turn and take your journey, and go to the mountains of the Amorites, to all the neighboring places in the plain, in the mountains and in the lowland, in the South and on the seacoast, to the land of the Canaanites and to Lebanon, as far as the great river, the River Euphrates. See, I have set the land before you; go in and possess the land which the LORD swore to your fathers—to Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob—to give to them and their descendants after them." This was a territory whose expanse was from the Sinai to Egypt, from the Euphrates to the Mediterranean, - very much larger than the Israel of today. It extended across the Jordan River into Jordan, and encompassed parts of Iraq. And it was promised to Israel (Jacob) and his descendants forever. But just who are those descendants? That is the crucial question!

You see, in the beginning, this was strictly a family matter. Arabs trace their ancestry back to Ishmael, - Jews, to his half-brother Isaac. God had promised their father, called Abram, a son with his wife, Sarai, (later Sarah). At that time, God changed Abram's name to Abraham, and told him that he would be "a father of many nations". As the years passed without an heir, Abraham grew impatient and fathered Ishmael with one of his wife's servants. [Now a modernist might say; 'Hey, it was his wife Sarah's idea, so what's the harm?' Well, he found out, as did we all. The Middle East has been living out the results of that poor decision for the last 4,000 years or so.] But Ishmael was not the 'son of the promise'. God set him straight in Genesis 17:19-21. "Then God said: "No, Sarah your wife shall bear you a son, and you shall call his name Isaac; I will establish My covenant with him for an everlasting covenant, and with his descendants after him. And as for Ishmael, I have heard you. Behold, I have blessed him, and will make him fruitful, and will multiply him exceedingly. He shall beget twelve princes, and I will make him a great nation. But My covenant I will establish with Isaac, whom Sarah shall bear to you at this set time next year." So Ishmael became the father of the Arab nations. Yet Isaac, of the Jewish line, was established as the 'son of the promise'.

The issue was further complicated in the next generation by a conflict between Isaac's sons, Esau and Jacob. Esau, also called Edom, was the firstborn, though cared so little for the distinction, that he sold his birthright for a bowl of soup. Later Jacob, whose name God later changed to Israel, tricked Esau out of their father's blessing. With the birthright and the blessing came the Land of the Promise. So was fueled a blood rivalry. Esau swore to "...kill my brother Jacob". (Genesis 27:41) Later, Esau and his line intermarried with the descendants of Ishmael who were already estranged from the people that would become the future nation of Israel. These became the Edomites. History shows their leading tribe, the Amalekites, became a perpetual enemy to both Israel and God. Exodus 17:18 tells us, "the LORD will have war with Amalek from generation to generation." Now in the present, confirmed by no less a source than the Israeli Embassy, the House of Esau, Edom, is none other than the modern day Palestinian People.²⁷ And so this war has continued down to this day.

Historical and prophetic confirmation can be found in the words of Psalm 83:1-8. "Do not keep silent, O God! Do not hold Your peace, And do not be still, O God! For behold, Your enemies make a tumult; And those who hate You have lifted up their head. They have taken crafty counsel against our people, And consulted together against Your sheltered ones. They have said, "Come, and let us cut them off from being a nation, That the name of Israel may be remembered no more." For they have consulted together with one consent; They form a confederacy against You: The tents of Edom and the Ishmaelites; Moab and the Hagrites; Gebal, Ammon, and Amalek; Philistia with the inhabitants of Tyre; Assyria also has joined with them; They have helped the children of Lot. Selah”

It is interesting that the current antagonists in the Arab / Israeli conflict can be clearly identified in this ancient Scripture. We saw that Edom is representative of the Palestinians, The Moabites were Lot’s descendants living East of the Jordan as did the Hagrites and Ammon.²⁸ There are over a million Assyrians living in Iraq today. The others were the ancestors of the Arab and Bedouin, Muslim peoples that remain in conflict with Israel to this day. And all of these have truly said, “Come, and let us cut them off from being a nation”. There is evidence for this in the wars of annihilation prepared by the confederated Arab States in 1948, 1967 and 1973. It is evident in the Palestinian National Charter, which calls for the destruction of the State of Israel. In the Arab / Muslim mind, it is religiously justified by a theology that envisions a complete destruction of the Jews before the return of the Islamic Messiah. According to the Hadith, “The Last Hour would not come unless the Muslims will fight against the Jews”.²⁹

The “Last Hour” of Islamic theology goes a long way toward explaining the notion of the “unending Jihad” and the religious justification of the terror. Dr. David Cook of Rice University, explains that to the devout Muslim, the conflict with the West and especially Israel, is in reality a conflict between good and evil. It is the very outworking of the historical plan of God. Remember, in its forming, Islam borrowed heavily from and then distorted the beliefs of the Biblically based religions of Judaism and Christianity, so there is a patina of similarities in their views of the last days. Islam too, is looking for the “Last Days” to be preceded by moral decay, and natural and cosmic disasters. Then will come a “Tempter” or Dajjal, who will lead all but the true Muslims astray. This is to be followed by the return of Jesus, who will kill Dajjal, ending his evil reign. This will be followed by a Messianic reign under the Mahdi, who will triumph in a struggle with evil in the form of Yajuj and Majuj. This is the Islamic version of the Gog / Magog struggles described in Ezekiel 38 & 39. Many Muslims believe that we are now living in the time leading up to the end of the age. Their traditions tell them that this will be a period of struggle with West and with Israel. Violent Jihad is the natural outworking of this philosophy.³⁰

And this theology of hate is preached in the Mosques, purposely fueling the fires of hate in an attempt to fulfill the will of Allah and bring about the triumph of the last days. Marvin Yakos, in Jesus vs. Jihad quotes Imam Sarbal, of Islamic Jihad in one sermon he gave. “Israel will exist until ...Islam will obliterate it...Kill so many Jews that they will eventually abandon Palestine...Allah! Kill them all, do not leave even one.” Another typical sermon broadcast back in 1997 referred to Jews as “...descendants of monkeys and pigs”, while calling confidently on the vengeance of Allah. Another Saudi Sheikh, Abd Al-Rahman Al Sudayyis, begged Allah to annihilate the Jews.³¹ A London cleric called for outright murder. And PA TV, an official arm of Arafat’s so called moderate Palestinian Authority, regularly targets children, inciting them to accept the culture of violence. “In one commercial for a summer camp children scream, ‘Commando’, and jump into a burning ring.” *In another children chant “My children, my children, o my country / Are in the suicide squad”, - as the announcer intones, “Jihad – holy war – is the main belief. It will never end.”*³²

This notion of Jihad, and forced conversion, is not some justified response to the sins of the West. This was institutionalized long before the Crusades. No, jihad, and conquest and suppression of Jews and Christians were and still are integral and essential teachings of Mohammed and the Koran itself. We see the inevitable results. There were centuries of Christian martyrdom at the hands of Muslims. In a book entitled, The New Persecuted, Antonio Socci tells the story of 45 million murdered Christians in the 20th century alone, and up to 70 million since the time of Jesus. An average of 160,000 Christians have been killed every year since 1990 – the overwhelming majority by Muslims.³³

If Jihad is the expression of Islam to the outside world, Sharia Law is what defines the relationship of Islam with its members. Sharia is a cruel task master, requiring unswerving obedience and offering punishments of extreme cruelty to those that fail to live up to its standards. It is routine to have hands or feet cut off in Saudi Arabia, for instance. Women routinely face the death penalty in many Muslim countries for adultery. The compassionate authorities generally delay the execution of a mother until the product of the adultery, the baby, is fully weaned. In one case, a woman, a French citizen, who had gone to the police to report a rape, - was charged with adultery and faces jail time for sex outside of marriage. Her rapists were not charged.³⁴ Blasphemy and conversion from Islam are also punishable by death. In Iran, a scholar and war hero, was sentenced to death for criticizing the religious hierarchy, - it was reckoned as blasphemy.

Islam has set itself up, not as a “Religion of Peace”, but instead a “Religion of Violence”. We must recognize that this is a religious war that we are fighting; - not against all who call themselves Muslim, - but against this ‘Theology of Violence’. Some would have us believe there is a moral equivalency between Islam and Christianity, between this culture and the culture of the West. There is not! - This is an ideology of hate – justified in the name of religion. The killings of the Nazis and the Communists were cold and impersonal, - bureaucratic in nature. Fundamentalist Islam offers a unique hate that is more personal, warm and passionate. In the words of Srdja Trifkovic, “Islam ...has created jihad and remains defined by jihad...a quasi-religious ideology of cultural and political imperialism that knows no natural limits”.³⁵ This is the force that has been raised up in opposition to the God of the Bible.
