ALL HAIL THE GREEN & RED ! – PART I

What's Green & Red? It's the colors of the vehicle of the coming New World Order being foisted upon the nations and population of the world in the name of environmentalism. Don't doubt it! There is a revolution that is being planned – the end game of which is a global government that will exercise complete control of the planet. And the environmental movement is to serve as the means to that end. Here's the money quote, from the openly globalist Club of Rome. It's from a report titled: The First Global Revolution, and it came out in 1991. “It would seem that humans need a common motivation, namely a common adversary, to organize and act together in the vacuum; such a motivation must be found to bring the divided nations together to face an outside enemy, either a real one or else one invented for the purpose. In searching for a new enemy to unite us, we came up with the idea that pollution, the threat of global warming, water shortages, famine and the like would fit the bill. All these dangers are caused by human intervention, and it is only through changed attitudes and behavior that they can be overcome. The real enemy then, is humanity itself.”<sup>1</sup>

That's a scary thought. And predictably, some of the proponents of this philosophy carry it to its logical conclusion. If mankind is 'the enemy', then it would follow that the population should be reduced. There are many that believe that the population of the globe should be reduced – RADICALLY. Prince Philip, radical environmentalist and the husband of Queen Elizabeth of Great Britain, said this: “If I were reincarnated I would wish to be returned to earth as a killer virus to lower human population levels.” The uber-rich Ted Turner actually quantifies the reduction for us. “A total population of 250-300 million people, a 95% decline from present levels, would be ideal.”<sup>2</sup> These folks are in deadly earnest – and as you will see – they have a plan to get us to their goals. Those goals include the entire world controlled by a central planning entity – a One World Government.

AGENDA 21

The vehicle that they've designed to take us there is something called Agenda 21. Or it can be referred to as 'sustainable development' or 'smart growth'. It is sold as something not just good for the planet – but something that is essential for our survival. In their view, that survival will necessarily entail a radical reworking of priorities on the part of everyone on the planet. Here they are in their own words. “Agenda 21 proposes an array of actions which are intended to be implemented by EVERY person on Earth...it calls for specific changes in the activities of ALL people... Effective execution of Agenda 21 will REQUIRE a profound reorientation of ALL humans, unlike anything the world has ever experienced.”<sup>3</sup> Writing in the New American, William F Jasper described it thusly. “Agenda 21 proposes a global regime that will monitor, oversee, and strictly regulate our planet's oceans, lakes, streams, rivers, aquifers, sea beds, coastlands, wetlands, forests, jungles, grasslands, farmland, deserts, tundra, and mountains. It even has a whole section on regulating and “protecting” the atmosphere. It proposes plans for cities, towns, suburbs, villages, and rural areas. It envisions a global scheme for healthcare, education, nutrition, agriculture, labor, production, and consumption — in short, everything; there is nothing on, in, over, or under the Earth that doesn't fall within the purview of some part of Agenda 21.”<sup>4</sup> Another writer put it this way: “Agenda 21 is a comprehensive plan of action to be taken globally, nationally and locally by organizations of the United Nations System, Governments, and Major

Groups in every area in which humans impact the environment.”<sup>5</sup> By the way, that total control is just what the Bible says the Antichrist will have when his rule is instituted during the Great Tribulation.

Agenda 21 had its origin in 1992, at the United Nations Convention on Environment and Development in Rio de Janeiro. It was signed by President George HW Bush – rejected by the Senate – but then President Clinton took that ball and ran hard with it. But this is not just some conspiracy theory that will be played out in some distant or uncertain future it is something that is happening right now. It is something that is being promulgated across America with at least 600 municipalities operating as dues paying members of something called the International Council for Local Environmental Initiatives (ICLEI). In those communities we see non-elected councils and groups of NGOs (Non-Governmental Organizations) and favored corporations overruling the will of a majority of citizens. Through these means the UN’s Agenda 21 is asserting complete “control over private property, energy use, water use” – and even the temperature of our showers. American Policy Center President Tom DeWeese says “It all means locking away land, resources, higher prices, sacrifice and shortages and is based on the age old socialist scheme of redistribution of wealth.”<sup>6</sup> This notion of rising energy prices and redistribution of wealth is something that then candidate Obama championed rather openly during his drive for the White House. It is in this context that we should understand his comments regarding cap n’ trade – a policy that would aim at driving up the cost of energy across the board. “Under my plan of a cap and trade system, electricity rates would necessarily skyrocket.”<sup>7</sup> The purpose of all of this would be to reduce the amount of energy being consumed. The affect would be that it would also significantly reduce the American standard of living. The Kyoto Protocols of 1997 require the developed nations to reduce greenhouse gas emissions to 5% below 1990 levels by 2012.<sup>8</sup> [This in a period when the global population went up from 5.3 to 6.8 billion. It just ain’t happening.] Canadian billionaire Maurice Strong, who chaired the UN’s Earth Summit in 1992 spelled it out plainly. “Current lifestyles and consumption patterns of the affluent middle class – involving high meat intake, use of fossil fuels, appliances, home and work air conditioning, and suburban housing are not sustainable.”

Others in the movement drew the connection between environmentalism and state controlled socialism. The environmental movement – and specifically Agenda 21, Sustainable Development & Smart Growth – are all part of a thinly veiled program to redistribute wealth. They serve as an outright attack on the private ownership of property. There’s this from the UN’s 1976 Habitat I Conference. “Land...cannot be treated as an ordinary asset, controlled by individuals and subject to the pressures and inefficiencies of the market. Private land ownership is also a principal instrument of accumulation and concentration of wealth, therefore contributes to social injustice.” Then there’s this revealing admission by Harvey Ruvin, the Vice Chairman of the ICLEI, quoted in The Wildlands Project. “Individual rights will have to take a back seat to the collective.”<sup>9</sup> ‘The Collective’, that’s the language of Bolshevism, Communism, - of the former Soviet Union. It is also – apparently – the language of the coming New World Order.

They are selling ‘Watermelons’. The ‘Green’ on the outside is hiding a ‘Red’ collectivist agenda on the inside. That agenda is to include the ‘Re-Wilding’ of America and the Globe. The intent is to drive or require populations to concentrate in the cities, to embrace the environment as the center of being and to achieve a ‘higher consciousness’. That’s part of the religious dynamic that drives the movement. Next time we’ll explore that religious connection. But this time we’ll finish off on the political side – with this quote from Dave Foreman of Earth First. “We must make this place an insecure and inhospitable place for Capitalists and their projects – we must reclaim the roads and plowed lands, halt dam construction, tear down existing dams, free shackled rivers and return to wilderness tens of millions of acres or presently settled land.”<sup>10</sup> This is the radical agenda we face...in the name of saving the earth.

GAY PRIDE: THE WAR AGAINST THE CULTURE – PART VII

While the series is pretty much through some online conversations that followed the legalization of same-sex marriage by the State of New York have given birth to some final thoughts on the subject. Through all of this, it must be remembered that we – Christians – are not at war with the culture. It is the forces that would radicalize said culture that are trying to undermine the very Christian values upon which this country was founded.

A POST SCRIPT

“God is light and in Him is no darkness at all. If we say that we have fellowship with Him, and walk in darkness, we lie and do not practice the truth....If we say that we have no sin, we deceive ourselves, and the truth is not in us. If we confess our sins, He is faithful and just to forgive us our sins and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness. If we say that we have not sinned, we make Him a liar, and His word is not in us.” (1John 1:5-6, 8-10)

Do you know what the biggest issue in my life is? It's sin. It's what separates me from the God of the universe. When I evaluate myself honestly – and look at my imperfections and the areas in which I fall short – I realize that I do not qualify – on my own – to stand before – to have fellowship with my Creator. But when I see and admit my faults – and repent of them: “He is faithful to forgive.” It is a wonderful thing. And the thing is: It is the same for you too. It is the same for all of us.

That's the issue that most rankles. Not that someone is struggling with failure in a certain area. The crux of the issue is the denial that the problem exists. It is the strategy – (purposeful or self-deluded) – of a significant portion of the radical homosexual movement, to claim that what they practice is sanctioned by God and His Word; that there is nothing wrong with what they are doing. The argument goes like this:

- God made us this way...And...
- The Bible does not mean what it (clearly) says on the subject...And...
- Since it is not our choice....
- Our actions are morally justified, an expression of who God made us and therefore to be celebrated.

But as we have pointed out at length in this series: This is NOT a reflection of reality. The truth of the matter is that the argument falls down beginning with the premise. Here is the reality:

1. Science shows that homosexuality is NOT genetically pre-determined.
2. Therefore it is behavior.
3. Therefore; since it is behavior: It has a moral component.
4. God's Word, (The Bible), defines that morality, declaring it to be sin.
5. All sin is not only an abomination to God – but is always destructive of both the individual and society.
6. Therefore it is wrong in both terms human and divine.
7. Therefore it is NOT to be condoned and celebrated.

In the end, it all comes down to your Point of Authority. Who makes 'Law' in your life? God's Word is very clear on the subject. Practicing homosexual acts is wrong: It is sin. One can choose to ignore this, reinterpret the Scriptures and say that it is not so. But that will not change the reality. Or one can choose to obey and surrender – as we are called on to surrender - in every area of our lives. God's command is clear. “If you love Me, keep My commandments.” (John 14:15) That refers to every “jot and tittle”. We don't get to pick and choose which ones! God is the only true Point of Authority!

RECIPES OF DEATH

I'm talking here about recipes OF death – not necessarily FOR death. It seems that the byproducts of the abortion industry have become a hot commodity. Human tissue from aborted babies is part of the routine make up of at least 23 vaccines. A former drug industry scientist, Helen Ratajczak revealed that “aborted embryonic cells” are used in the production of the vaccines. In a study she authored, she notes that the incidence of autism increased with the introduction of human DNA in 1988.<sup>11</sup> An EPA sponsored study has raised the same concern. It only goes downhill from there. For instance, the cosmetics firm Neocutis uses it in anti-wrinkle skin creams. [How is that materially different from the Nazis making lampshades out of the skins of dead Jews during the Holocaust?] If that's not bad enough, Dr Mercola writes: “PepsiCo, Kraft Foods, and Nestle are reported to have partnered with a biotech firm called Senomyx, which uses human embryonic kidney cells taken from an electively aborted fetus (HEK 293) in their product testing to find flavors that will positively affect human taste receptors.” Responding to public outrage, Campbell Soup severed a similar relationship with Senomyx. “However, PepsiCo has maintained their relationship with the company, saying the collaboration is necessary for creating low-calorie, tasty products for their consumers.”<sup>12</sup>

CRISIS WATCH 1 - EUROPE

Crisis 1 = The Euro-Crisis. It's July 12th. Italy is being pounded. The continent's third largest economy is in danger. Kind of a surprise to the world at large. (They keep telling us everything is going to be OK.) Italian banks are starting to go wobbly and Money News warns: “Italy May Be Next European Disaster”.<sup>13</sup> Meanwhile the crisis in Greece has advanced to the point where the other EU governments seem ready to throw it under the bus. With Athens on the verge of default, there is – at this point – no pledges of additional financial support forthcoming. Headline in the UK's Guardian: “Greece set to default on massive debt burden, European leaders concede”.<sup>14</sup>

CRISIS WATCH 2 – SYRIA

There's a bit of a drama being played out in Syria. We've all watched the operation of the 'Arab Spring' in Syria. The protests continue there to this day – and even the inordinate amount of bloodletting visited on the protesters by President Assad's forces have barely dampened the fervor in some sectors. Then you have the involvement of the Turkish Army, massed on the border with warnings going forth from France and the US that they will be unleashed should the crackdowns continue. So last week, Assad signals that he will meet with the opposition and open up the political process. Then without warning, he reneges. Soooo...the American and French ambassadors are sent to make an appearance in Hama, the city that is the center of the dissent. Their presence seems to have had the affect of stopping another slaughter. But Assad is not through. Encouraged by a “television station heavily influenced by Syrian authorities” a mob descends on both the American and French embassies. In both cases, Syrian security forces stand back and watch as the mobs enter the respective compounds. The Americans on site – including the ambassador – are forced to retreat to one of the fortified wings, capable of withstanding rockets and explosives and a siege of a week or so. So what's there to learn from all of this? For instance: There's this. The attack by the Syrian mob was an orchestrated thing. In the words of one commentator: Damascus had ‘upped the ante’. And they did so at a time when the Obama administration and the UN and the Quartet were scrambling to get the Palestinians and the Israelis back to the table to finally settle this whole Middle East thing. Of course from a Biblical perspective – it has to play out – but it's all stupid and pointless. However, Syrian actions do add to the perception – already present – that an attempt by the Palestinians, starting in September or so – to win recognition as a nation state by the UN – will only lead to violence. Put Syria in the mix, add in the outflow of the Arab Spring in Egypt – and watch what happens with Hezbollah in Lebanon – and perhaps even Jordan....and you have the recipe for the Psalm 83 War.<sup>15 16</sup>
