Issue #363

A FINAL ? WARNING

Economists are calling the eventuality of a Greek default all but certain.¹ Rumors are flying that it could come in a matter of anywhere from days...to several weeks at the longest. Germany meanwhile is gearing up for the worst. As reported in Bloomberg and Zero Hedge, “Chancellor Angela Merkel’s government is preparing plans to shore up German banks in the event that Greece fails to meet the terms of its aid package and defaults.” Some banks stand to lose as much as 50% on their investment.² But all this is about more than just Greece. It is a continent wide banking crisis “rooted in the Greek, Italian, Spanish, Portuguese and Irish debt crises.” The real problem is that Europe’s banks hold a colossal amount of debt from those countries. It is generally feared – (and it will be fear that drives this crisis) – that once Greece goes – Italy will be next – and on down the line. A domino effect, if you will. While all had been looking to Germany to sustain the whole continent, it now appears more and more like they neither can nor will make that effort. One rumor coming down the pike is that Germany is making plans to sustain its own banks only – leaving the rest of the continent to fend for itself. And that feeds the panic.³

Tyler Durden from Zero Hedge expects a “coming financial apocalypse in Europe.” Jeffries Financial Group chief strategist David Zervos talks about the End Game for Europe. “The bottom line is that it looks like a Lehman like event is about to be unleashed on Europe WITHOUT an effective TARP like structure fully in place....The road map for Europe is still 2008 in the US, with the end game a country by country socialization of their commercial banks. The fact is that the Germans are NOT going to pay for pan European structure to recap French and Italian banks....Expect a massive policy response in Europe and a move towards financial market nationalization that will make the US experience look like a walk in the park.”⁴

What’s important to note for our purposes is that a Greek default looks increasingly likely and that it may have some prophetic consequences. The economic chaos descending on that continent may lead to increased centralized control; a movement, if you will, toward a European government; or as some are beginning to style it; a United States of Europe. Even the New York Times is writing of a movement in Europe to create “a central financial authority — with powers in areas like taxation, bond issuance and budget approval — that could eventually turn the euro zone into something resembling a United States of Europe.”⁵ The UK’s Telegraph reports that the EU’s President Herman van Rompuy is readying a run for a second term — this time to head a United States of Europe.⁶ Even David Cameron of Britain — the EU’s most hesitant nation — is pushing for what The End of the American Dream blog calls “deeper European integration”. It goes on to make this point. Despite what the general populations may want, Europe’s Elite want a single, federalized European entity; a United States of Europe. “And they may just be willing to allow a massive financial crisis to happen in order to get it.”⁷ If that is indeed the case, they are contributing to building the ten headed kingdom described by the Prophet Daniel and John the Revelator.

The Prophets & The Futurists

So here’s he skinny on the Greek / European sovereign debt crisis. We must understand it all as a grand manipulation designed to arrange the world according to the specifications of the New World Order crowd. It’s been four decades since the globalist Club of Rome openly revealed their agenda to divide the world into 10 Super Nations. They gave examples. These included an African Union, a North American Union and the most advanced in the process — a fully integrated European Union. Not coincidentally, these plans exactly mirror Biblical prophecy. The Prophet Daniel reveals that he had a vision of the End Times Kingdom — an entity with ten centers of power. “After this I saw in the night visions, and behold, a fourth beast, dreadful and terrible, exceedingly strong. It had huge iron teeth; it was devouring, breaking in pieces, and trampling the residue with its feet. It was different from all the beasts that were before it, and it had ten horns.”

(Daniel 7:7) Revelation 17:12 confirms the interpretation. In that chapter, John the Revelator lays out a bit of the vision that God gave him of the coming Kingdom of Antichrist. “The ten horns which you saw are ten kings who have received no kingdom as yet, but they receive authority for one hour as kings with the beast.” There is a further clue in that. These are kingdoms that did not – at that writing – exist. And they will exist only for “one hour”. And as verse 13 reveals, they exist for one purpose. “These are of one mind, and they will give their power and authority to the beast.” That is exactly what the Club of Rome revealed about their plan to divide the world into Ten Regional Governments. Those are to serve as the component parts of an eventual Global Regime. But how to get us there....?

So let's check out what's going on right now. Here's Eric Blair of the Activist Post. “Fear is being laid on thick as another ‘crisis’ is being used in an attempt to consolidate political power. This time-honored tactic looks like it is now getting the final push in Europe as financial leaders and presidents alike call for a United States of Europe to avert collapse.” Fear then, is the tool with which the world's elite hope to wield to conform the masses to their will. The elite seek to drive the world's population to the point that they will trade just about all of their remaining freedoms for a sense of security. The Bible speaks of just such a time just prior the Time of the End. The world will one day make that trade, accepting the empty promises of the Antichrist in the process. The Apostle Paul wrote: “But concerning the times and the seasons, brethren, you have no need that I should write to you. For you yourselves know perfectly that the day of the Lord so comes as a thief in the night. For when they say, ‘Peace and safety!’ then sudden destruction comes upon them, as labor pains upon a pregnant woman. And they shall not escape.” (1Thess 5:1-4) Blair makes it plain that the specter of impending disaster is intentional. *“The message is clear coming from the establishment: form a more centrally-controlled political and economic union or you will suffer....It's become obvious that this has been the plan all along. ‘If you have a currency union, you certainly also need more elements of a political and of an economic union. That was clear from the outset when we started this project some 10, 15 years ago,’ said the Luxembourg finance minister Frieden.”*⁸

To see how this may unfold we'll go back to our friends at LEAP 20/20. They've had a near-perfect record in anticipating the unfolding of the crisis over the last several years and they came out with an update on September 16th. The folks at LEAP have confirmed again their earlier analysis of the situation. All along they've been saying that the fourth quarter of 2011 would be characterized by an “implosive fusion of global financial assets,” that will be marked by the almost sudden disappearance of in excess of $5 trillion in “ghost assets”. [In the last issue they wrote of how they expect some event that will cause the value of the dollar to drop about 30% over the course of just a few weeks.] Now they say that the public debt issues of Greece and other critically affected European nations will cause the “reaction to reach critical mass, after which nothing is controllable.” The unfolding crisis will hit the financial centers of London and Wall Street very hard indeed, say they. The results for Great Britain will be devastating. “At the same time, the United Kingdom is sinking into depression with riots of uncommon violence, an austerity policy that fails to control budget deficits whilst plunging the country into an unprecedented social crisis.” LEAP believes that the result of all this will be “a Euroland political integration treaty will be put to a Euroland-wide referendum by 2015.” In other words, the ‘thinkers’ in the LEAP tank, see the successful completion of the political unification process occurring over the next few years. How convenient for the Powers That Be!

As for the United States, we may be in even bigger trouble. November 2011 seems to be the time when all will hit that point of “critical mass”. They anticipate that it will be at that point that America will “brace itself for a politico-financial ‘perfect storm’ that will make the summer problems look like a slight sea breeze.” In their scenario events should unfold as follows:

1. The Super Committee of the US Congress will “prove incapable of resolving the tensions between the two parties.”
2. The “automatic budget cuts required to be made in the absence of agreement will result in a major political crisis in Washington and increasing tensions, especially with the military and the recipients of social benefits.” That turbulence will then filter down to the state governments.
3. More major credit rating agencies will downgrade US credit.
4. The Fed will be found to be an empty suit – without any real power to effect a “rescue”.
5. The collapsing economy will in turn cause tax revenues to collapse – aggravating the crisis and making effective government response impossible.
6. Finally, President Obama's employment plan “will have no significant effect.”

In summary, LEAP believes that the world will discover that the American economy can no longer support its debt. Thus the US will be hard pressed to raise the money to continue to function as the world's superpower. It will need to walk a tightrope between "significant austerity" and "deep depression". Yet at the end, the report seems vaguely and cryptically hopeful. It enjoins us that "many futures are possible".⁹ And that is just what the Elites would have for us. They are looking to create the crisis - that will engineer the chaos - that will allow them to change the World Order, replacing it with one of their own making; run by a man of their own choosing. They sometimes call him Lord Maitreya or the New Age Christ. The Bible identifies him as Antichrist.

A Wilkerson Warning

And then there's this. This very scenario may have been described by a man of God; the recently deceased Rev David Wilkerson. Though we've covered this territory here before, it would be helpful to look again at his writings. And while this newsletter is not in the habit of publishing personal prophecy – we do make exception for his work. Rev Wilkerson does have a record of uncanny accuracy. Weeks before the 9/11 attacks, God moved him to suspend all other activities in his church and dedicate that body to prayer for this country. Years ago he wrote a book titled: America's Last Call: On the Brink of Financial Holocaust, that accurately warned of the bond market meltdown and the collapse of the real estate markets that has since occurred. According to Wilkerson, this will lead to the collapse of the dollar. Interesting about all this is that Wilkerson's writings from about 1998 mirrored the situation that started to manifest back in 2008- and that continues today. There's even a closer parallel if we look at a vision he had before that.

Writing in 1993, he foresaw three nations going bankrupt. Here are his own words. First, "One nation and I'm speaking prophetically - if I've ever heard anything from God in my life, I heard it-the nations ...European or North African or Eastern nation is going to default". (Not very specific, but it gets better.) "About 2 weeks after the first country defaults...the 2nd country is going to go down, probably Argentina or Brazil and we will kind of live that out and people will settle down and say 'Well maybe its not going to hurt.' But two weeks after the first country goes down, Mexico is going to default on $100 billion. Wilkerson goes on: "When the banks open the next day at 9:00 am in the morning $15 billion an hour is going to be withdrawn from our American banks. They are going to be running our banks. Now I've had visions....and I was in Macy's in a vision and I saw people walking around stunned because they couldn't get their money out of the bank. Now I'm going to give you a word of advice, the first country that goes bankrupt - this is the first time I've said it in a public meeting like this - but the first country that bellies up you go and get every dime you have - church get your money out of the bank - because there's going to be a bank holiday and you won't be able to get a dime for six months. Now of course there's going to be restoration, but the nation will never be like it is again."

Perhaps this next comment sums up the effect that Wilkerson believes this prophesied event will have on the country. "There's going to be fear like we've never known – judgment at the door".¹⁰ Please consider these words prayerfully and ask for guidance from the Holy Spirit as to their application.

END GAME 2011 – PART IX

In Part VIII we continued our look at The Church of Man, exploring the roles played by universalism and the Emergent Church. But these are but reflections of the ancient pagan religions of the East packaged into a New Age form. The New Age has infiltrated the Church and is making inroads toward dominating the culture. It will serve as the enabler for the rise of the Antichrist and will be the basis for his religion. That is the spiritual foundation of 'The End Game'!

INTRODUCING THE NEW AGE

"Then the serpent said to the woman, "You will not surely die. For God knows that in the day you eat of it your eyes will be opened, and you will be like God, knowing good and evil." (Genesis 3:4-5)

Welcome to the New Age! The Age of Pisces the fish is ending. It's time for the Age of Aquarius! To tell the truth, I never used to take it seriously. I just thought it was a bunch of sandal wearing, dope smoking, granola snorting, California hippie types that bought into this stuff. They would head to the mountains every-so-often, (when they weren't busy avoiding a real job), to chant "oooohhhmm", or commune with nature, or beat drums in the night as they danced around a fire, painted like ancient druids. I thought it was crazy, - but basically harmless. And I was wrong!

The New Age is false religion in its most virulent form. It is a counterfeit spirituality that is infecting the whole world. It poses itself as being tolerant and non-judgmental, accepting of all beliefs. Yet it is unashamedly opposed to the God of the Bible and those that recognize His authority. In the New Age, 'all paths are equal', except that is, the narrow path of the Christian. Because there is no sin or judgment or hell, - nothing is by nature, - evil. (Yet we know that a God who can wink at evil is not a God that is 'All Good'.) And as their own writings admit, New Age notions of good and evil, light and darkness, are reversed. They will openly tell you that Satan, Lucifer, is the true god of this world, - and worthy of our worship! In the New Age, Jesus is a good man, a great teacher, an Avatar, even an Ascended Mater, - but certainly not the Holy Son of God. You see in the New Age, god is in all of us. In fact its more than that, - we all are god. (That's pretty scary. It seems god was a little constipated this morning.)

The god of the New Age is a god of forces, a god of energy. Good and evil, Yin and Yang, are but equal and opposite forces. In that worldview, what we would call good, actually becomes one of the aspects of the divine. God is not a person but rather a force that exists in everything and everybody. We need only tap into that divinity. So we see cafeteria spirituality developing, - combining a little bit of this and a little bit of that. To one it may be Catholic ritual and Hindu meditations and Wicca . Another may embrace Deepak Chopra and channeling communication with the dead. And as the world invades the Church, some congregations are even embracing yoga and meditation. Some denominations are signaling their acceptance of other belief systems. In November of 2001, the official website of the Church of England stated that both Mohammed and Buddha should be "...celebrated alongside Moses, David and the Virgin Mary, because they *“led God’s people to God’s light.”*¹¹

Since the days of Nimrod and the Tower of Babel – as confirmed in the excesses of the French Revolution, the plan has been in place: a One-World-Religion, a One-World-Government, a return to the Garden. But this is to be a Garden without the God of the Bible. Without the Creator! As New Ager David Spangler put it, “The priest-kings of Sodom, Egypt and Babylon will return to rule us”.¹² That is quite the admission of paganism, and ties it directly to the ‘Dark Forces’. Worshipping the merely created, - even if it be Earth or Energy – is the true mark of paganism. Egypt and Babylon were the pinnacle, the originator of Satan worship and institutionalized immorality. In much of the “civilized” ancient world, temple priestess/prostitutes were the norm. In Sodom, homosexuality, pedophilia and other perversions were publicly tolerated. This was paganism in full expression. Therein lays the crux of the matter. The New Age is seeking a return to its Source. Alice Bailey, founder of the Lucis Trust, tells us that Source is the “Luciferian Mysteries”, the very foundation of the paganism of Egypt, Babylon and Rome, - of Hinduism, Buddhism - and more recently Hitler’s Germany. More recently it has come to include Neo-Paganism, the New Age, Satan worship, Freemasonry, and the higher echelons of the Mormon Church. As we study the practices and beliefs of these various religious systems, we can better see through history how they are all bound together. Taken altogether in its various aspects, it but comprises a single, but multi-expressive Pagan System of Worship; the basis of the coming World Religious System under the Antichrist.

The tenets of the New Age have been around since the early days of Babylon. But the modern movement took shape in the 1870's, guided by the occult writings of Madame Helena Blavatsky, with her founding of the Theosophical Society. Blavatsky synthesized the occult with Eastern religious thinking. Mankind became god, “...in both its aspects - good and evil”.¹³ The good Madame believed mankind needed to be freed from its false gods in order to be “self redeemed”. Blavatsky passed the movement’s torch to Alice Bailey, who founded the Lucifer Publishing Company in 1922. Almost immediately she saw the world wasn’t ready for so open a mission statement and changed the name to the Lucis Trust. Bailey published two-dozen books while admittedly demon possessed by the “Tibetan Master” Djwhal Khul. She wrote up through the immediate post WWII era. And that brings us to the modern movement; a good jumping-off point for next time.
